

Sandra von Erlach's Jess – Switzerland

info@prentonlane.ch

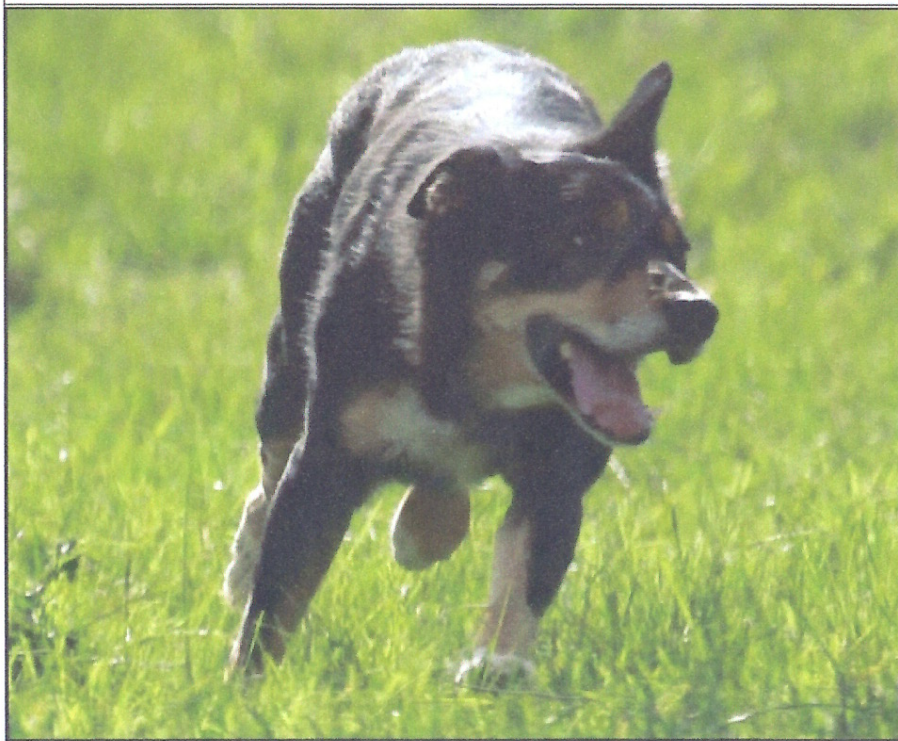

Just outside the eastern city limits of Bern in Switzerland rises the Bantiger mountain and behind that stretches the Emmental (Emme valley); a fertile farming region of gently rolling country with many farms having belonged to the same families for centuries. This is home to one of Switzerland's rapidly improving sheepdog handlers, Sandra von Erlach.

Originally from Liverpool in the UK, Sandra got her first real working sheepdog after a trip to Scotland in 2000. Midge, a bitch off Stuart Davidson's Whiterose Kep, turned out to be a fine work dog for Sandra. Sandra's next border collie was Pip, another good, strong work dog.

During a trip to the World Trial in Ireland in 2005, Sandra made a spontaneous decision to purchase

Jess after seeing her working with Bill Seale. Two years old at the time, Jess showed a lot of style, character and a huge willingness to please – qualities that appealed to Sandra. Sandra and Jess just bonded quite quickly and in 2006 they attended their first trial together. Just two years later they represented Switzerland at the World Trial.
